In my opinion the Wexler/Allen Top 100 list is the best of the several "Top 100" lists devised Please note that since the above was written (many years ago) and that other numbering systems have evolved. For the most part many of the entries on this list were entered years ago when were purchased the holdings of old-time dealers. While we respect the work of others we simply do not have the time to add all the new listing numbers that have evolved since this list was first created in the 1980s. As such due to time restraints more often than not we will not include the newer Wexler, Crawford, CopperCoins, etc., numbers.
